

WEEK – 12 (18/02/22) – SPOT

1. Write a function `month_name` that receives a character and returns a pointer to a character string containing the names of the corresponding months. The month names should be kept in a string array local to the function.